

We are all antimicrobial users.

Every day, tiny superheroes known as antimicrobials are used to help kill or prevent the growth of bacteria, viruses and fungi. These good chemistries touch many aspects of our daily lives, often without us even realizing it.

You are Anti-Spoil
if:

You buy textiles
and paint that are protected from breaking down

You have wood in your house that it is protected from decay caused by
mold and mildew

By extending the life of products you
use every day,
antimicrobials
help us
preserve
our precious resources.

With the use of antimicrobials, you are doing the right thing to protect yourself and your family. Learn more at goodchemistryliveshere.com.   @GoodChemistryLH
